WHO ARE YOU?

It's a good question: "Who are you people?" But the implications are defensive. For asker and askee. It compels both to look back, as if they are afraid to look at each other or are playing or hoping to play one-upmanship.

Where you come from tells where you might be headed. But it is still up to you to make the trip. Antecedents generations past only point; they can't lead you wherever you ultimately arrive.

Texans are no different from people in other parts of the country. They are proud, if not a little prouder of their accomplishment, real and mythical.

The overtones of snobbery derive when generations with gallop and go expire, but the line continues.

The line continuing, the asker, hits you with the good question: "Who are you people?"

And the askee, never much riven to the subject, shrugs, saying, "They go back a ways."

"Oh," askee says, curiosity kindled, DAR lineage at hand, Daughters of Confederacy backstopping. "How far?"

"I'm not sure," says the askee. "Second or third Crusade, maybe 900 years."

"Don't you think space travel will change our lives?" asker says, conversation ending.

A better question is seldom asked: "Who are you?"

From the Journal (Coffeyville, Kansas): "The bathtub was invented in 1850 and the telephone in 1875. This probably doesn't mean anything very special, but if you had been living back then, you could have sat in the bathtub for up to 25 years without ever hearing the telephone ring."

Students Work At Interesting Jobs

By Kathryn Kahler

In addition to finding summer employment in the Industrial Park and the downtown area of Cameron, students are hired to fill jobs in the nursing homes, in auto repair shops, and in Cameron's feed stores.

"The nursing homes hire ten student employees, according to Mrs. William Watkins of the Cameron nursing homes. A few have worked through the year as Home Economics Cooperative students and through the Vocational Adjustment Class taught by Mr. Biggs. These have continued to work through the summer. We also have others who are not a part of these programs."

Students at the nursing home participate as nurse's aids, as janitors, as ward clerks, as kitchen helpers, and as laundry assistants.

"One of the most convenient things about students is their accessibility," said Mrs. Watkins. "We've had a good year."

According to William Watkins, owner of the nursing homes, "We've had some pretty good kids. Some have been better than others. We especially like for the co-op girls to help us in the summer. It provides them with good training, and also helps them or any student employee look into the medical field and see if they are interested in it."

Another type of summer employment that requires a great deal of skill is that of the mechanic. Cliff's Auto Service employs three students as summer employees, one of which is a Vocational Adjustment Student.

Said Cliff Marburger, owner of Cliff's Auto Service, "I've been real pleased with each of these boys. Two have worked in past summers, and they are becoming good mechanics."

Cliff's, located on the Waco Highway, is in its fourth year of operation. However, Marburger has had 27 years experience as a mechanic in Cameron.

Marburger praised the Vocational Adjustment and Distributive Education program at Yoe High School. "This was my first year with it, and I've been very pleased. The student I had has worked out real good."

A Cameron business that has hired students for about twenty years is the Farm and Ranch Store owned by Joe Humplik. "I started with my son, twenty years ago, and since then I've only had three more. All of them have been good employees."

A student employee "does just about everything at the store. He sells gross, chemicals, drives the trucks, and spreads fertilizer for the farm," said Humplik.

AAA Warns Drivers About Hoarding Gas

An urgent warning on the dangers of hoarding fuel was issued to all motorists today by the American Automobile Association.

While gathering information for its weekly Fuel Gauge forecast on the nation's gasoline supply, AAA said it has found that some motorists are carrying extra cans of gas in their car trunks as insurance against running out of fuel on the highway.

In case of an accident, what might ordinarily be a minor mishap could become disastrous under these conditions, AAA said, and if a chain reaction highway accident occurred, the result could be a holocaust.

Also, the motoring federation said gasoline stored in cans inside a hot car trunk can expand and overflow, increasing the risk of ignition by sparks from a crash or from a lighted cigarette.

AAA also warned that cans filled with gasoline for future car use should never be stored in garages or other property of the homeowners.

New Comet Approaches Earth, Will Be Brighter Than Moon

By Peter Mosley
Reuters Science Editor

LONDON

Reuter--A comet that could rival the full moon for brightness is heading earth's way, promising the celestial sight of a lifetime.

Preliminary estimates are that Comet Kohoutek will shine 10 times brighter than any of its recorded predecessors and fill a sixth of the southern sky at the end of this year.

It is 63 years since Halley's Comet, hitherto the most brilliant, paid its last visit to our skies. By the time it reappears in 1986, it may well have been figuratively eclipsed by Comet Kohoutek.

Yet, in contrast to the well-established pattern of Halley's Comet (named after English astronomer Edmund Halley, who foretold its reappearance in 1882), the new giant was spotted for the first time only last March 7.

Its discoverer was Lubos Kohoutek, of the Hamburg Observatory, West Germany. All comets are named after their discoverers.

He was searching at the time for a minor planet. What he saw when he examined his findings was a tiny dot on the very edge of two photographic plates. It lay some 450 million miles from the sun.

By the time the moon waned and fresh photographs were possible, the dot had grown into a much larger blob. Later tracking by observatories in the United States, Japan and Britain confirmed that it was indeed a long-period comet. It had appeared in these parts before, it must have been before recorded history.

Measurements indicate it should blossom into a spectacular display between November and February. One reason for this belief is that Halley's Comet is first observed when considerably closer to the sun—about 170 million miles closer. And even at that distance Halley's Comet is far less distinct than Kohoutek's. Still more exciting, Comet Kohoutek should brush within 13 million miles of the sun compared with an average distance of almost 18 million miles by Halley's Comet.

The origin of comets is not known for certain. Some experts believe there are hundreds of millions of them spinning beyond the orbit of Pluto, the outermost planet of our solar system. Several "new" ones are discovered each year as they apparently spin away and enter orbit around the sun.

As a comet approaches the sun, the heat vaporizes the frozen gases thought to make up most of its nucleus, forming a coma or envelope of less dense gas.

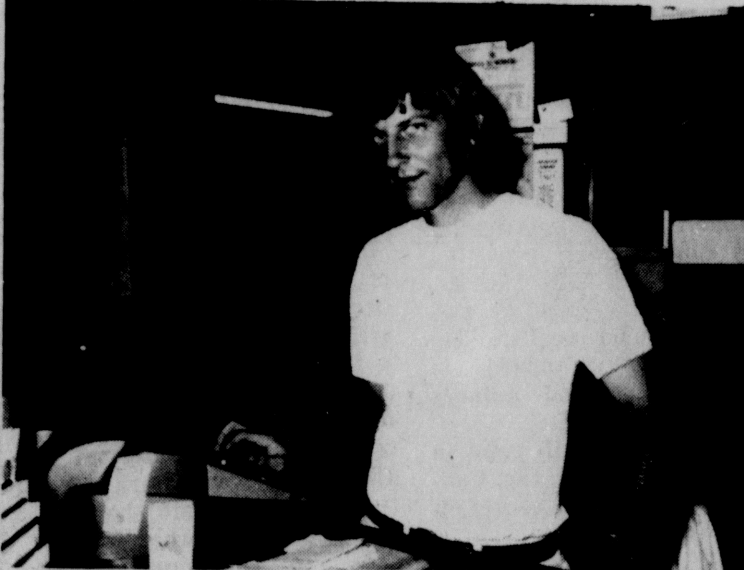

Closer still, the sun's radiation causes a "tail" to appear on the comet, this gives the comet its distinctive tadpole appearance.

Comet Kohoutek has not yet developed a tail.

But astronomers preparing for what may be their event of the century feel it cannot be long before the tail appears. Their big hope as they prepare elaborate studies of the new comet is finally to discover the composition and origin of these mysterious heavenly bodies.

Student Beneficiaries...

Congratulations again are in order for Cameron, Maysfield and Milam school leaders for enabling CISD's annexation of the Maysfield Common District.

Hearing both sides, the Milam School Board voted unanimously to approve the annexation which was approved about 4 to 1 in Cameron last summer, but failed in Maysfield 46 to 23.

At issue was the quality of education for anywhere from 30 to 40 students in the eight-grade school. Milam Board Member J. D. Moore, a former county agent, acknowledged the advantages of small schools, but noted the superior services of a larger system, like AAA Cameron.

Cameron's high school, for example, offers about 15 to 20 additional courses to the student than smaller high schools. A question of minimum size, not just big-ness, enters.

A good AAA system can offer just about everything the larger AAAA system can, but within a size that keeps student-teaching relationships viable.

Cameron welcomes Maysfield students as they would have been welcome a year ago. The better enrollment will be beneficial to the CISD area, beneficial to these students, beneficial to the entire system because of that much more local tax support.

This basic improvement is another step toward a better CISD system, which serves about one-third the geographical area of Milam County because of good highways which enable the rural student to commute either by car or bus.

Students in this area are the beneficiaries.

A Rose Of Welcome...

Rosebud, neighbor to the north, is posting new booster signs which say: "Rosebud, the Flower of Central Texas."

This civic push is based on a fact which years ago made Ripley's "Believe It or Not." Seems a rosebush was planted in every yard in Rosebud.

The civic leadership there is getting more aggressive if their recent banquet is an example. Rosebud has solved some significant problems in the past five years, though a town under 2,000 has minimum size working heavy odds against it.

Rosebud consolidated with Lott for a central Rosebud-Lott High School. Numerous new homes, health facilities and a dress factory have developed. This is a good response to the cotton-based population migration of the 50s and 60s.

Cameron has gone through a lot of the problems Rosebud is facing. It was difficult for a town of about 6,000 to solve some of them. It is somewhat more difficult for the smaller town.

But Rosebud is facing the future with aplomb. And a rosebush at each house. And a rose of welcome for its visitors.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

GASOLINE "WOLF" IS AT THE DOOR

Rep. D. L. Atta (Ohio)

I want to express my displeasure over the disclosure by Treasury Secretary George Shultz that the administration is studying a proposal to drastically increase the Federal excise tax on gasoline. This is a negative approach.

What is needed is more gasoline—not more taxes. . . . "First. We must take another more realistic look at auto emission standards. The new model cars are using up to 20 percent more fuel.

"Second. We must increase our oil imports. . . . and the administration has already taken Executive action to make this possible.

"Third. It is imperative that we find and develop more domestic supplies. . . .

"Fourth. Congress should approve the President's request to extend the investment credit provisions of our existing tax laws to encourage exploratory drilling for new oil and gas wells. . . .

"Fifth. Do everything possible to expedite the program already announced to extend the amount of Continental Shelf acreage subject to leasing. . . .

"Sixth. Congress should speedily enact the right-of-way bill that will enable construction to begin on the Trans-Alaska pipeline. The oil is here. . . . "Seventh. Develop new deepwater terminals in suitable coastal locations to handle the new generation of supertankers.

"Eighth. The petroleum industry must be permitted under realistic environmental standards to construct needed refinery facilities. . . .

"There is still time in this session for the Congress to act. Let us get on with it."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Municipalities operating public safety vehicles such as fire, police and in some cases ambulances, are required to purchase gasoline on competitive bids. Oil companies have been reluctant, and in some cases have refused to bid. If municipalities and farmers are forced to purchase gasoline at retail from the corner Service Station, Congress will act, and fast.

Advertisements advising that, "A country that runs on oil can't afford to run out," were viewed as a false cry of "Wolf." Well, the Wolf is at the door. Rep. Atta offers some suggestions that merit consideration.

House Committee Eyes National Energy Crisis

By Bill Boykin

Experts offer little hope for an early easing of the energy crisis, and Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon warns a lot more oil and gas is being used than is being found.

A House committee studying the crisis heard a national authority's grim opinion that "there is no way out."

Dr. John McKetta, past chairman of the National Energy Policy Committee, said President Nixon should declare a national emergency, since it's too late for problem studies in the area.

Langdon told the same committee legislative efforts to cope with the problem will be frustrating because solutions must be sought at the national level.

Although the state regulatory agency has been permitting 100 percent production for more than a year, Langdon said Texas producers are still falling short of demand for oil by 400,000 barrels a day, or roughly 10 per cent.

Atty. Gen. John Hill termed the situation "extremely critical," and said no other matter should receive more attention today.

As the commission set the July oil allowable at 100 per cent for the 16th straight month (with buyers seeking a record 3.8 million barrels a day), Langdon issued a new warning that only nine million barrels of oil a month are being added to Texas supplies while 105 million barrels are consumed in the same period.

"Unless this trend is reversed, the Texas oil and gas industry is in the process of self-liquidation," said Langdon.

Texas crude oil stocks as of June 8 were 94.7 million barrels, a decline of 7.2 million from 1972.

Langdon asked for reports at the July commission meeting on the amount of oil companies discovered in 1972, and "somewhere along the line," he said, he will want to know "what it will take to find more"—and whether the industry will really be "able to stay in business."

FUTURE HIGHWAY NEEDS
Mass transit needs should be financed from its own funds, not from highway funds, Roy D. Chapin Jr., Board Chairman of American Motors Corporation, told Texas Good Roads Association members and the Texas Highway Users Conference here last week.

bus transportation.

"Highways are still the basic answers for urban transportation needs. The Department of Transportation says by 1990 that 92 per cent of transportation will be on roads and streets—with only eight per cent on bus and railroad facilities."

Chapin, who is chairman of the board of the National Highway Users Federation, spoke to a partisan audience, but his statistics impressed neutral observers about the need for political unity in the current struggle between eastern states and the rest of the nation for current highway user funds.

"HUD says that population density will continue to drop in urban areas," Chapin concluded. "Travel patterns will be from suburban home to suburban jobs. Buses and car pools can start lowering congestion—but highways are still important to those methods of transportation."

He spoke against "crisis" legislation because of the "current misunderstanding and misinformation on the so-called energy crisis. Soem restrictive actions may be taken in the name of crisis, increased tax on gas, excise taxes and personal property taxes on automobiles, Chapin added.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED
Nine more proposed constitutional amendments will appear on the November 6 general election ballot—just a couple of months before the Legislature sits for a constitutional convention.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

One of the pleasures of living on this Johnson grass farm out here, aside from the current prospect that the fuel shortage may keep me from doing all the plowing I might not otherwise be able to get out of doing, is studying the plight of the big cities.

As everybody knows, cities just don't have enough money to operate on and are constantly hunting for new sources of tax revenue.

One of the new sources now being proposed is a commuter tax. Cities say look, all those people living outside our limits are coming in every day to work, wearing out our streets, using up our electricity and water, being protected by our police, enjoying all our other services, getting paid here and then going back to their suburban homes to spend it. They ought to be taxed for the privilege.

This makes sense, and clearly the thing to do is to set up tax booths on every road leading into town and charging every commuter say a dollar a day to get in.

Now of course on the other hand a lot of city people, as soon as their work week in the crowded city is over, head for the country, so the thing for country people to do is to rent those tax booths on weekends and charge city people for leaving.

This way everybody makes money, coming and going.

I can't say which side would make the most, but that's beside the point, the only thing to do is try it out and let the chips fall where they may, although these days it's hard to let the chips fall where they may when nearly everybody is using a chain saw.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

P.S. I've just read that some eager beaver in Washington has assured farmers they'll get all the fuel they need to make a crop. Why can't Washington leave me alone?

Beef Short Course

Set At A&M

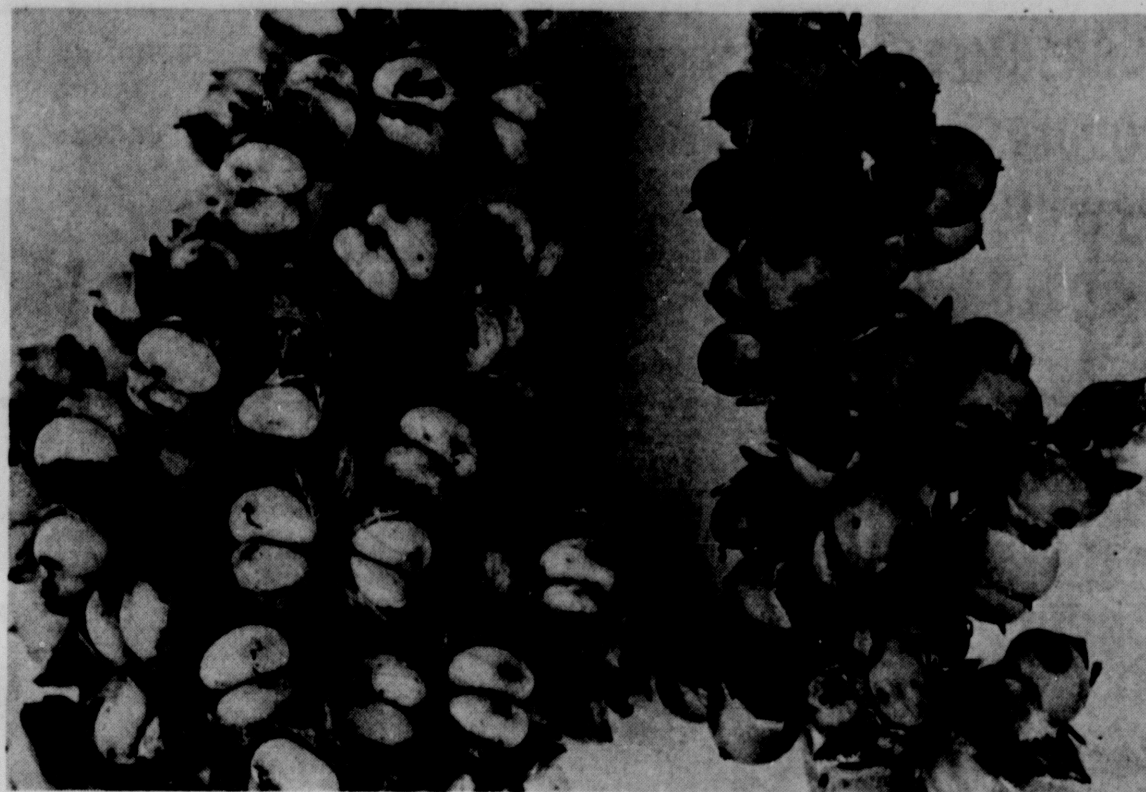

Beef cattle producers will have an opportunity to receive a complete package of information on more profitable beef cattle production through pastures and forages at Texas A&M University Aug. 20 and 21.

The occasion is the 23rd Annual Beef Cattle Short Course and the 8th Annual Pasture and Forage Short Course, held together this year for the first time.

The combined short course will be directed to "increasing beef cattle profit opportunities with forage," says Dr. Dennis Herd, beef cattle specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Herd is serving as coordinator of the combined short course which will be held at the Ramada Inn across from the A&M campus.

FARM NEWS

TWIN SEEDED GRAIN SORGHUM - Newly developed twin sorghum, on the left, will be one of the highlights of the Texas A&M University Plantation Field Day and Tour on July 6 beginning at 3:30 p.m. The twin seeded sorghum has two seeds where the normal plant only contains one as shown on the right. The new grain produces 48 percent more seed and has boosted yields 15 to 20 percent.

House Committee Passes Bill Extending Ag Act

WASHINGTON

The House Committee on Agriculture by a 31 to 4 vote and 1 present approved a bill to extend and modify the Agricultural Act of 1970, which otherwise expires December 31.

The bill was introduced by Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Texas, with 24 other Committeemen as co-sponsors and was approved without change. As introduced, the legislation represented the work of the Committee in months of public sessions and business meetings. A draft of the measure in its final form was approved by the Committee shortly before its formal introduction.

Similar to a bill already passed by the Senate, the legislation alters the 1970 Act by establishing a "target price concept" of supports under three basic crops-cotton, wheat and feed grains.

Under the proposed new farm program crop subsidies which have been running about $3.5 billion annually would be eliminated so long as there was a continuation of the current relationship between farm prices and crop production costs.

A four-year bill, it sets a target price of 38 cents a pound for cotton, $2.05 per bushel for wheat and $1.38 per bushel for corn.

Chairman Poage expressed hope the Rules Committee next week would clear the measure for action on the House Floor so that it could be brought up for passage shortly after the July 4 week recess of the Congress if it does not come to a final vote next week.

In separate action, the Committee approved by a 27 to 3 vote a bill by Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa, to provide equity in the 1973 grain set-aside program by increasing the payments received by Option B participants under the crop program from 15 cents per bushel up to 25 cents per bushel.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

No Doubt About It... Wheat and Diesel... Still Number One... Milk Production Dips.

If there were any doubts about it at all, a report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will dispel them regarding cotton and Texas.

During 1972, Texas produced about a third of the nation's cotton crop. Normally, the report on Texas cotton would have been completed much earlier, but the 1972 crop harvest wasn't completed until March of 1973.

The crop for 1972 totaled 4,246,000 bales compared with only 2,579,000 bales produced during 1971.

Yield per harvested acre averaged 408 pounds compared with 263 pounds in 1971. This is the second highest yield on record, being exceeded in 1968 with 410 pounds per acre.

The 1972 upland cotton crop is valued at $446,000,000, compared with $329,000,000 in 1971.

Nationwide, a total of 13,702,100 bales was produced, which is 31 per cent above the 1971 crop. The average 1972 price is set at 26.60 cents per pound compared with 28.07 cents per pound in 1971.

WHEAT harvest continues in Texas amid reports of fuel shortages. As of the first of June, harvest was only five per cent complete compared with 25 per cent in 1971.

Fuel shortage reports continue heaviest in the wheat harvest areas. Custom combine operators apparently are having the most trouble in locating fuel supplies.

Farmers who run short or out of fuel should report that fact to their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office or the Texas Department of Agriculture.

PEACH production based on June 1 prospects for Texas is forecast at 271,000 bushels, which is less than half of the 604,000 bushels produced in 1972. Peach harvest is now active and quality is reported good to excellent.

RANGE and non-irrigated pasture conditions are six per cent better now than a month ago. Conditions are generally good to excellent throughout the northern half of the state with some exceptions.

TEXAS continues its honor as the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. As of June 1, cattle on feed in Texas totaled 2,252,000. This is 10 per cent above a year ago, and four per cent above a month ago.

Number of cattle on feed in the seven major cattle feeding states-Texas, Iowa, Arizona, California, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas-totaled 9,455,000. This is a one per cent increase from a month ago and four per cent more than a year ago at this time.

Placements into Texas feedlots during May total 492,000 head. These placements are 12 per cent below May this year but 91 per cent above the previous month.

Marketings of fat cattle during May totaled 403,000 head, which is 12 per cent above a year ago and 14 per cent above marketings for April.

Cattle producers are continuing to expand production, contrary to some claims by some consumer groups that the cattleman is purposely holding back production in order to keep his price high.

MILK production in May in Texas is the same as May of last year, but is one per cent below a month ago. May milk production totaled 305,000,000 pounds in Texas.

Nationwide, milk production is two per cent under a year ago. Production during the first five months of this year is two per cent less than last year.

Psychic Forces Under Investigation By Astronaut

By Ivan Sharpe

SAN FRANCISCO Reuter—An intent young Israeli confounds scientists with his apparently mysterious powers. He bends keys and forks using no discernible physical force and accurately describes hidden objects.

A 40-year-old artist also staggers scientists at California's prestigious Stanford Research Institute by apparently controlling with his mind a well-shielded magnetic field.

"What we are establishing," says Dr. Edgar Mitchell—the sixth man to set foot on the moon—"is that the mind controls the universe."

The former astronaut, who holds a doctorate in aeronautics and astronautics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is now devoting his life to proving that psychic forces do, indeed, exist.

Even so, it is a remarkable statement for a scientist to make.

It is more than two years since the 44-year-old retired navy captain agreed to conduct telepathy experiments from outer space when he was the lunar module pilot on the Apollo 14 mission.

"I'm convinced that psychic forces are real," he says. "What I want now is an explanation."

"The highest priority is to develop sensors to measure the psychic energy in the same manner we use instruments to detect an electric current. I think it's possible."

"It was only by accident we discovered radio waves. And we have already proved that psychic energy exists in some form."

Mitchell, bearded and relaxed, talked in the three-room office suite in Palo Alto, California, that he calls the Institute for Noetic Sciences. He founded it a few months ago with the professed aim of investigating psychic phenomena.

Actually, Mitchell admits that he sees his role more as a focal point for attracting research money. The Stanford Research Institute work was sponsored and paid for by Mitchell, the Mind Science Foundation in Los Angeles and the Science Unlimited Research Foundation in San Antonio, Texas.

The Stanford work has been carried out amid some controversy. Time Magazine wrote an unfavorable story in March about the 26-year-old Israeli, Uri Geller, implying he was a fake whose feats could be duplicated by skilled stage magicians.

However, the Stanford Institute is one of America's best-known think tanks, doing research for both the government and project, Fr. Harold Puthoff and Russell Targ, are both recognized scientists and laser specialists.

In a recent presentation to physicists at Columbia University, the Stanford researchers said of Geller and the New York artist, Ingo Swann:

"We do not claim that either of these men have psychic powers. We draw no scientific explanation. All we can say at this point is that further investigation is clearly warranted."

Mitchell said the researchers were "taking an ultra-conservative point of view."

And of the Time story, he exclaimed vehemently: "Geller is not a fraud. He may very well be able to perform tricks as well. He happens to be a performer. We never caught him in any sleight of hand. We had a magician watch him at Stanford. And the magician said he's clean. We're not fools."

Geller himself says he is merely the instrument of an intelligent energy with a purpose of its own. He believes the power comes from outside the galaxy.

Tami Gray On 4-H Club Summer Exchange Visit

Tami Gray is a southern blonde Yankee, just for a week that is. Tami is on a ten day 4-H exchange trip to Pennsylvania. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gray of Thorndale and serves as president of the Thorndale 4-H Club.

Last year Tami's family served as host family to a 4-H boy from Pennsylvania. A group from Pennsylvania revisited in Williamson county and the Grays were a Milam County family that cooperated with this program.

The group of 4-H'ers and adults including Tami flew from Austin International Airport on June 24. The group of 29 landed at Dulles International Airport in Washington, D. C. on June 30 and will spend two days visiting sites there. While there they will stay at the National 4-H Center. The group will return to Central Texas on July 2.

This experience is educational as well as enjoyable for Tami. An outstanding Milam County 4-H'er, she serves on the Milam County 4-H Council, has attended District 4-H Leadership Lab, and participated in the 1973 State 4-H Roundup at College Station. She has also participated in the county 4-H Food Show and County Dress Revue.

When Tami returns from her trip, she will be available to present programs for civic clubs and other organizations.

AUSTIN--You know the trouble with broiled fish? It looks blah.

It tastes great with a squeeze of lemon and a pinch of salt, but it does look sort of bleached out.

Mrs. Cindy Anderson, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's seafood home economist, says broiled fish lovers shouldn't resign themselves to a colorless future, and she proves it by suggesting "Redfish Mexicali," a tangy recipe with a colorful sauce.

With "Redfish Mexicali," you get the slimming effects of broiled fish and fantastic flavor of something you know you shouldn't eat. Something that tastes this good just has to have a jillion calories. But it doesn't.

Try this recipe soon and then send off for more free seafood recipes, available from "Seafood," Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Austin, Texas 78701.

2 T. Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
dash liquid hot pepper sauce
Place fillets in a single layer, skin side down, on a well-greased broil- and serve platter, 16 by 10 inches. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour sauce over fillets. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat for 10-15 minutes or until fillets flake easily when tested with a fork. Baste once during broiling with sauce in pan. Garnish with lemon wedges. Makes six servings.

Sports - Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray

NEVER FAILS!
It never fails! Just after doing that column on the questionable Astro Trade with Cincinnati, Lee May and Tommy Helms begin tearing the cover off the baseball... Aggie Grid Genius Emory Ballard sets all Khaki Hearts atwitter with the following assessment of his quick turnaround at College Station: "We've had a good recruiting year and we are getting to the point where we will have the finest situation possible in the United States." You cannot put it much plainer than that.

One SWC Head Coach has made the flat-footed prediction Port Neches' Jeff Bergeron would not become the Super collegiate ball-carrier most everyone expects him to become at UH. No, Jeff, it wasn't your old sparring partner, Darrell Royal. And, it sure wasn't Houston's Bill Yeoman who definitely looks for a National Title behind Bergeron's flying feet.

ALL'S QUIET?

Where did all those Scoffers hide after Former Oklahoma Heisman Hoss Steve Owens told of the riches offered him if he would sign at some other schools? Some folks were giving certain college coaches Hail Columbia for accusing their Brethren of purchasing football talent on the hoof. "They're just jealous because they're getting outrecruited came the Big Bleat.

Then, when Oklahoma had to ring its own bell for illegal recruiting Owens came to the Sooners' Aid, saying he'd received nothing to go Big Red. But, he told of some pretty gaudy offers from some other Lily Whites.

"I was offered $5,000 cash if I would sign with this one school and another school doubled the offer to $10,000," the hard-running Detroit fullback told interviewers at a Fellowship of Christian Athlete gathering. "I was offered cars, wardrobes, free fraternity dues, you name it. Really, a kid in my situation, coming from a large family, it was hard to turn down," Steve continued.

"I feel sorry for high school players who have to go through this. The recruiters make it awful enticing," he concluded.

Life, now, where did all those fellows go who scoffed at the idea certain colleges were buying football players?

Romania Fetes Tennis Champ

By Gwynne Roberts

BUCHAREST

R e u t e r s--He may be "Nasty" to sports fans in the west, but to the population of this capital he is an idol and the hopes of Romania rest on his shoulders as the tennis year moves into top gear.

With nine tournament victories under his belt this season, including the coveted French and Italian shingles titles, Ilie Nastase has been feted in his homeland where he returned in triumph after his flashing victories in Paris and Rome.

To the Romanian public his name, face and feats on tennis courts around the world are as familiar as the personality and decisions of the nation's leader Nicolae Ceausescu.

The communist-controlled press has spared no effort in publicizing Romania's most famous sports figure and any regulations regarding the undesirability of the cult of personality have been swept aside as far as Nastase, officially an army officer, is concerned.

Detailed and voluminous reports of each of his tournament victories this season have filled columns in the newspapers, with analysis and comments verging on ecstasy.

Every time the flamboyant, controversial Romanian star steps on court in any part of the world, Agerpres, the official national news agency, provides coverage.

"Keen satisfaction," was the agency's reaction to Nastase's capture of the French and Italian titles--an accolade in this closely controlled world of journalism that would customarily be reserved for a major diplomatic feat.

On the streets of Bucharest, Nastase is regarded with the same awe and enthusiasm western crowds would pour forth at the sight of a major screen star.

As the build-up for the most famous championship of all--Wimbledon--gathered pace and while a row between the world's top players and the administrators of the international lawn tennis federation raged on in London, Nastase and his beautiful French wife, Dominique, rested and holidayed in a mountain resort 80 miles north of here.

Apart from Wimbledon, which he came so close to winning a year ago, Nastase has his eyes set firmly on Romania's Davis Cup tie here between July 20 and 22 against New Zealand which he described as "a strong opponent."

Brown, Rainbow Trout Thriving Near Kerrville

Brown and rainbow trout placed in the Parks and Wildlife Department's Heart-of-the-Hills Experimental Station near Kerrville are growing like crazy.

Rainbow trout stocked at the station in May which were 2 1/2 inches long now average 4 1/2 inches in length and 1 1/2 inch browns are now 3 1/2 inches long.

Parks and Wildlife Department project personnel weigh and measure the fish every 10 days. During the last 10-day interval, the fish doubled in weight.

Coordinator Neal Carter of Austin says that the growth rate is better than that attained by hatcheries in northern states.

"Spring water at the station is very fertile," said Carter, "and the young trout are getting plenty of natural food in addition to commercial trout food."

Heart-of-the-Hills project leader Bill Rutledge received some 3,000 brown and 20,000 rainbow trout to develop techniques for working with trout in Texas.

Biologists hope to iron out a few problems associated with rearing fish in warmer Texas waters.

Carter feels that the critical months in the project still lie ahead--July and August.

"We're optimistic about survival of the fish during the hottest months of the summer," he said, "the temperature of the spring water does not vary that much."

Elsewhere, department biologist Allen Forsage and hatchery superintendent Litt Newman are working with rainbows at the possum Kingdom Hatchery.

Darrel Butler and San Marcos Hatchery superintendent Harmon Henderson are also doing work with trout at Canyon Reservoir and San Marcos.

Bees in a hive flex their abdomens to release a scent, as a homing beacon, according to the National Geographic Society's book, "The Marvels of Animal Behavior."

Softball Starts At LL Field

The second game of the 1973 softball program for girls in junior high school saw the Peanuts beat the Redheads on Thursday night 15 to 14.

Playing for the Peanuts are Debbie Ermis, Janet Angell, Debra Fleming, Lare Shelander, Debbie Sapp, Tracy Barr, Marilyn Ermis, Nancy Perkins and Lori Crook. Debra Fleming was the winning pitcher.

On Thursday night the Bombers beat the Yoettes.

The program for girls, now in its fourth season, is sponsored by the Cameron Ministerial Association. Rev. Don Exley is leader of the program and coaches are Shirley Parsons for the Redheads, Sandra Corbin for the Bombers, Sue Chubb for the Yoettes, and Betty Ermis and Carol Barr for the Peanuts.

Games are played at 6 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday at the new Little League park behind the airport. Everyone is invited to come see the fun and excitement of girls softball.

person's desire to travel in the summer time. The mailed enticements we've heard about were "congratulatory" letters, informing the complainants that they had "won a trip" to a glamour vacation spot; and all they had to do to take advantage of this opportunity was to pay a $15 reservation fee to secure accommodations at the other end of the journey.

In the cases which have been checked out, there really wouldn't be anything to "win," unless the recipient just happened to be going to the resort mentioned, because transportation would not be furnished; gasoline would not be provided; meals would not be paid for along the way. And once the person arrived at this destination, he could not even be sure of getting a "free" room, because if he read all the way down in the congratulatory letter, he would notice the warning that an additional charge would be assessed if it were "peak season."

A similar promotion was halted three years ago by a Federal Trade Commission cease-and-desist order. And the attorney general of Ohio very recently secured a court injunction against this deceptive practice, since the operator was incorporated in that state.

Investigators in our own Consumer Protection Division have been advised by U. S. Postal Service Investigator Allan Peffer that the Postal Service is attempting to recover money lost by consumers who sent in "reservation" fees only to discover they had no reservation. And Better Business Bureaus are trying to warn consumers against potential disappointments of this type. The amazing thing is that the travel business is extremely competitive, and hundreds of valid vacation bargains can be found through legitimate tour and travel services, including those operated by the transportation carriers, major oil companies and the established travel clubs. If you are tempted by some vacation offer that sounds "too good to be true," it probably is. If you're lured by a holiday excursion which would cost half as much as rates publicized elsewhere, find out why. Maybe it literally would be a one-way trip, and you'd be stuck with the additional cost of returning home. If you're offered a "free" vacation near some popular recreational site, find out exactly how near. It could be as much as 300 miles away. If a land development promotion invites you to enjoy accommodations with a low out cost while inspecting the place advertised, check on the quality and reputation of the place you'd be staying. If you do run into a vacation fraud which was advertised by mail, contact the U. S. Postal Service's Special Investigative Division in Washington, D. C. Or, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division office in Austin, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Lubbock or El Paso.

PICNIC TIME... THE FOURTH!!!

One of the fun times for families is the Fourth of July picnic at the lake or in the park, or at any favorite spot. A little preplanning will make the preparations faster and more fun for all, including Mom.

Keep all your picnic supplies together. Outfit a basket (or whatever container you choose) with paper dishes and flatware, tablecloth, napkins and paper towels, salt and pepper shakers, toothpicks, pre-moistened towelettes (for easy hand cleaning), insect repellent and first aid kit—and you'll be ready to go on short notice!

Perishables should be kept below 40 degrees if possible and used as soon as possible. Some foods which require special care because they spoil easily are potato salad, sandwiches with mayonnaise fillings, cooked meats and poultry, and creamy foods.

Freeze sandwiches and hamburger patties and transport them to the picnic in the cooler or insulated bag. Surround the frozen items and perishables with ice cold canned pop to help keep them chilled. Carry perishable foods inside the car. The trunk may get too hot and hasten spoilage. Once at the picnic spot, keep foods in the shade.

Be sure to pick up your trash before leaving and check to see that all fires are completely out, so the next family can enjoy the summertime fun of a picnic.
